

CSAAI 2022 A Midsummer Night's Wheeze PROGRAM SUMMARY

Target Audience: Specialists in Allergy, Asthma and Immunology

It is an exciting time in the field of allergy and immunology. This CME/CEU program is designed to allow attendees to continue exploring the field. Covered topics include oral food challenges and novel food allergy therapies, contact dermatitis, chronic cough, asthma and biologics, and more!

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of the conference, participants should be able to:

Contact Dermatitis:

- Discuss various presentations of contact dermatitis
- Discuss the role of patch testing and practical aspects of emerging and important allergens
- Discuss rashes seen in the allergy office but aren't allergic
- Discuss some differentiating features of eczematous diseases

Food Allergy:

- Select appropriate patients for oral food challenge
- Identify safety precautions necessary for conducting oral food challenge
- Describe recent advances in OIT, SLIT and EPIT
- Identify advantages and disadvantages of all methods of treatment
- Discuss advances, expectations and limitations with your food allergic patients

Asthma/Biologics:

- Evaluate and select evolving therapeutic strategies
- Review mechanisms, current biologics and effects
- Evaluate current clinical data indicating suggesting possible remittive effects of biologics in asthma

Chronic Cough:

- Understand the differential diagnosis of cough and its potential causes;
- Undertake an evaluation through the anatomic diagnostic protocol;
- Treatment of the causes of chronic cough

MCAS:

- Define the criteria for diagnosis of MCAS
- Determine MCAS from other conditions presenting with a high serum tryptase (i.e. hereditary alpha-tryptasemia and systemic mastocytosis)
- Discuss treatment options for these patients to reduce morbidity and improve their quality of life

Accreditation Statement: This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint providership of the American College of Allergy, Asthma & Immunology (ACAAI) and the California Society of Allergy, Asthma and Immunology (CSAAI). The American College of Allergy, Asthma and Immunology (ACAAI) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

AMA Credit Designation Statement: The American College of Allergy, Asthma & Immunology designates this live activity for a maximum of 10.50 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in this activity.

CE Designation: The American College of Allergy, Asthma & Immunology (ACAAI) is a Provider, approved by the California Board of Registered Nursing, Provider #10704, for up to 10.50 Contact Hours.

Faculty Disclosure: Current guidelines state that participants in continuing medical education activities should be aware of any affiliation or financial interest that could affect the speaker's presentation(s). Faculty members have completed conflict of interest declarations and those potential conflicts will be listed in the course syllabus.

Commercial Support: This activity is supported by independent educational grants from:
