Kevin Pedrotti

Kevin is known for political insights, masterly assisting a diverse client base on health care, insurance and business industry issues. His hands-on approach marries personal relationships with policy insights.

Kevin's career in politics and government affairs began as policy staff in the California State Assembly. He has lent his expertise as a senior lobbyist for a national law firm and as a named partner for a Sacramento-based lobbying firm. His legislative successes are many within the California timber industry and California hospital industry. J K Pedrotti, Inc., represents a diverse base of clients, from Fortune 20 health care companies to trade associations and small businesses. Kevin is also a partner in Clear Advocacy, LLC.

Kevin serves as a board member of the Institute of Governmental Advocates (IGA). IGA is a voluntary, non-partisan association representing the leading professional lobbyists and lobbying firms in California's Capitol. Kevin serves as a Board Member of the River City Rebels competitive run club.

A graduate of California State University at Chico with a degree in Public Administration, Kevin is an accomplished runner and Ironman triathlete. His personal best national caliber 2:33 marathon time caused a Sacramento newspaper to anoint him "Sacramento's Fastest Lobbyist."

He lives with wife, Janet, in Fair Oaks, California.
